Ways To Support Legacy

THOUGHTS TO PONDER

Martin Luther was asked, "What makes a shoemaker a Christian shoemaker?" He replied, "I could say that a Christian shoemaker should put a cross on every shoe that he makes. But I would not say this. I would say instead that Christian shoemakers will make the best shoes that they can."

"Christianity has not been tried and found wanting; it has been found difficult and not tried."
G.K. Chesterton

Christians need an optometrist because they are all cross-eyed.

There are two sections in eternity: smoking and non-smoking.

Challenges can be stepping stones or stumbling blocks. It's all in your perspective.

Out of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not by conquest from without but by moral decay from within.

Teaching and leadership are moral endeavors.

"I plan and work with all my might to bring the troops to the right place at the right time; with that I have done my duty. As soon as I order the troops formed into battle, I lay the fate of my army in the hands of God." Robert E. Lee

The younger generation does not so much need critics as it needs examples.

"We have all of eternity to celebrate our victories, but only a few minutes before sundown to win them." Amy Carmichael

Worldview Thinking:

Christian education is not simply a matter of starting class with Bible reading and prayer, then teaching subjects out of secular textbooks. It consists of teaching everything, from science and mathematics to literature and the arts, within the framework of an integrated biblical worldview. It means teaching students to relate every academic discipline to God's truth and His self-revelation in Scripture, while detecting and critiquing nonbiblical worldview assumptions.

Spirit Day Celebrations:

Spirit Day Celebrations are designed to create community, enhance learning experiences, release imaginations, and create an atmosphere of fun. The teachers will have special learning activities designed to reinforce the chosen theme. Participation is voluntary. Bring your cameras and build memories for your student.

Captain's Log—Stardate 9.2011.8

The crew of Starship Legacy is now entering its third day of searching for clues to the composition of this newly found genre that others before them named Science Fiction. The search has uncovered unknown words, idioms, phrases, and entire new worlds. Along the way, discoveries have been made about how authors tweak the present to create the appearance of the future or imagine whole new things that have later become reality. Highlight of the week was celebrating the anniversary of the first showing of Star Trek by dressing as some type of Sci-Fi character, eating alien food, and watching/discussing the literary elements of an early Star Trek episode. Live long and prosper.

“Be diligent to present yourself approved to God as a workman who does not need to be ashamed, accurately handling the word of truth.” 2 Tim 2:15

5th Grade News:

5th grade has been exploring matter in Science this week. We have been looking at its properties and experimenting with how to measure and classify it. In Social Studies we have been traveling across our country and looking at the different landforms and regions we can find.
